A BAD START.

The Young Men's Republican Club have decided to concentrate their forces this year on the election of Sardis Summerfield.

It is a pity that young men just entering politics should be roped in to the advocacy of a candidate with such a record as Summerfield. He has been the tool of the county bosses ever since he came to Carson, and the fact that he took his first lessons in corruption from the hands of Tremmer Coffey ought to brand him in the eyes of every citizen of Ormsby who believes in an honest administration of the county government.

Summerfield's official trail over the county of Ormsby makes every taxpayer want to attach a clothes pin to his nose.

The Young Men's Republican Club has no reason to be proud of its maiden effort in politics.

The Prince Imperial went out hunting on the day of Tennyson's funeral. The dead poet's verse has added more lustre to the name of England than the entire line of her miserable royal family for the last 500 years. The grouse-shooting dude had no business at the funeral of so good a man as Tennyson.

The Silver Boom.

The Silver State says.
Hon. Francis G. Newlands, the silver candidate for Congress and the silver tongued orator, arrived yesterday on the west bound train. He has been canvassing Eureka, Elko, White Pine and Nye counties, and goes today to stir up the grangers and miners of Paradise. Through Eastern Nevada he met with the most hearty and enthusiastic reception. The people from everywhere flocked to hear this distinguished champion of silver. His pleasant manner, logical arguments for the white metal as money, and historical narratives of the anti-silver legislation in Europe and America riveted the attention of his audience, and when he seemed about to close his eloquent and instructive address of an hour and a half, or two hour's duration, he met with shouts of "go on; go on."

His vote will be practically unanimous in Eastern Nevada. The people see in him a champion of silver who will be heard and felt in the halls of Congress, and whose efforts in the House will be fruitful of grand results; The great interest and the great work done by him as a private citizen in and ever since the Silver Convention held in St. Louis points him out as not only being in the foremost rank of statesmen, but a real organizer of men and unification of the silver sentiment of the country.

After the election it will be amusing to see how quickly the demagogues in both the old parties will begin to declare themselves the true friends of labor and unflinching advocates of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. Like Senator Teller, they will be brave silver men when they can do no good for it.
